

NAZIS BATTER AT GATES OF STALINGRAD

Meandering Along the Main Stem

Reports are that crabgrass has been giving a lot of worry to many Washington C. H. and Fayette County householders this year because it came to many lawns earlier and crowded out much good grass. Early excess of moisture is supposed to be the cause. Nearly everyone is looking for a remedy but about the most practical I have heard was mentioned in the Wilmington News-Journal a few days ago in quoting the announcement of Prof. N. R. Elliott of the University of Kentucky School of Agriculture. Prof. Elliott says to keep your lawn mowed very closely, quit digging and rake up the crabgrass stems and burn 'em; it takes several mowings to cut off the stems; mow, rake and mow again, he says; each crabgrass plant let mature means a thousand seed and weed-like, every seed apparently grows; the first cold snap or two should kill the pest, but remember the seed will stay and plague you again next year if you let it mature.

I notice more and more careless folks are endangering life and limb by walking through red lights, regardless of traffic from the opposite direction.

This was brought forcibly to mind when I saw a very young mother pushing a cart containing her baby, crossing the street against a red light, necessitating some abrupt stopping by two drivers to prevent striking the mother and child.

Observers state that there is a growing tendency on the part of pedestrians to walk through the red light, and official cognizance may be taken of the fact to bring about proper observance of the traffic laws, it is hinted.

Let me introduce Sir Vivor! Pay particular attention to that name for it really has a meaning all its own.

You see Sir Vivor is the name Mrs. Florence Eggleston, of North North Street, bestowed upon a cocker spaniel puppy . . . the only survivor of a litter of seven which arrived last April. For some reason six of the puppies died within 24 hours after birth . . . after they had been laid aside for dead, Mrs. Eggleston detected life in one of them . . . so, she took it into the house and after a great deal of effort, succeeded in reviving it . . . particularly after she had used a medicine dropper in feeding it hot milk.

When it became apparent the puppy would live, Mrs. Eggleston bestowed upon it the clever name of Sir Vivor . . . that is the way the puppy . . . now a sizeable and beautiful dog . . . is registered among the blue blood cocker spaniels.

Mrs. Eggleston, who is a well known seamstress, has refused $30 for Sir Vivor.

If you don't think the nation is full of soldiers, try traveling by train for a few hundred miles, and you will soon be convinced there are great numbers of men in uniform on the move, some for points overseas, others to various training camps, and many others en route to or from home on leave of absence.

One to a dozen soldiers, from "Leathernecks" to aviators are usually found in every coach on through trains.

In railway stations in the larger cities the uniform is seen on all sides, and usually a pair of "M. P.'s" (military police) may be found patrolling the stations.

During the past two weeks I have seen hundreds of these men in uniform waiting in stations or riding trains, and in every instance their deportment was tip-top.

If you don't believe the railroads are moving great quantities of war materials, then just keep your eyes open.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Authorities reported today the arrest of three prisoners who fled from Hamilton County jail a week ago, thus accounting for all six inmates participating in the break. Frank Wiener, 31, Cincinnati, was arrested at Greensburg, Pa., on a disorderly conduct charge, while Elsa Houtchens, 23, Louisville, Ky., and Eugene Woon 32, Cincinnati, were seized at Louisville.

FARM PRICES UP DURING MONTH

Six of 23 Commodities in Survey Down and Two Remain Unchanged

COLUMBUS, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Fifteen Ohio farm products brought higher prices in the month ended August 15, six were down slightly and two remained unchanged, the federal-state crop reporting service announced today.

Prices advanced over July 15 levels for wheat, corn, barley, rye, buckwheat, hogs, beef cattle, veal calves, sheep, milk cows, chickens, eggs, butter, and butterfat.

Oats, soybeans, potatoes, hay, lambs and work stock showed small price declines, while apples and wool remained unchanged.

Prices of all agricultural commodities, however, were well above August, 1941, levels. August, 1941, and July 15 and August 15, 1942, prices of various products were:

Wheat 96 cents, $1.06 and $1.12 per bushel; corn 79, 85 and 87 cents; oats 35, 48 and 47; barley 48, 56 and 57; rye 60, 61 and 65; buckwheat 58, 78 and 82; soybeans $1.29, $1.59 and $1.55; potatoes 80, $1.25 and $1.20; apples 80, $1.20 and $1.20; loose hay $7.30, $9.80 and $9 per ton. ## AMERICAN SHIP BUILDERS SLOWLY OUTDOING SUBS

BARBERTON, Sept. 3.—(AP)—American assembly line methods will retaliate ten-fold for every American ship lost to Axis raiders, asserts Rear Admiral Emory S. Land. American ship builders are slowly but surely outdoing enemy submarines in the battle of the sea lanes, he said yesterday in presenting the Maritime "M" Award to the Babcock and Wilcox Co., the nation's oldest producers of marine boilers.

MORE WOMEN TO BE USED IN WAR FACTORIES

War Department Moves To Meet Growing Shortage on Men for Industries

AGE LIMIT FROM 18 TO 50

Plan Evolved To Release All Possible Eligible Men For Military Service

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Secretary Stimson reported today the war department intended to meet a growing manpower shortage by possibly doubling the number of women war workers in army arsenals, depots and office jobs.

About 300,000 women already are working on guns, planes and tanks and filling clerical and supervisory posts, and Stimson told his press conference as many more could be absorbed.

"As far as practical, women will be employed in preference to men of war service age or capabilities," he explained. "However, this policy will not limit the employment of qualified men who are ineligible for military service by reason of age or physical disability."

War department employing and training officers have been directed to "fully utilize, immediately and effectively, the largest and potentially the finest single source of labor available today, the vast reserve of women power," Stimson said.

Since June 1, he reported the number of skilled women workers in war department activities has risen from three to ten per cent. Almost 35 percent of the unskilled workers are women.

Age limits for most jobs are 18 to 50 years and there is no bar to married women. Generally women workers must meet civil service requirements. Those without previous mechanical experience receive training of from nine to 12 weeks.

MEAT OVERCHARGING LEADS TO TROUBLE

Ceiling Violators To Face Court Action

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—(AP)—The Office of Price Administration announced today that it would file actions in federal courts in 18 cities today in connection with a campaign against alleged violators of price ceilings on beef and veal. More than 100 meat packers and wholesale distributors are involved.

Most of the cases, OPA said, involve so-called "up-grading" of beef and veal, although many were "concerned as well with plain and simple overcharging." The packers and wholesalers also will be charged with issuing incorrect invoices and failing to issue invoices, as provided for by regulations, OPA said.

The OPA defined "up-grading" as stamping and selling meat of inferior grades at prices established for higher grades.

Connie Bennett Claims Son and Cut of Fortune

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Constance Bennett, the actress, said today that Peter Bennett Plant was her own son and the son of the late Phillip Plant, Broadway figure and sportsman, and she would appeal a court action holding the boy was not entitled to $550,000 of Plant's estate.

Probate Judge Arthur P. Anderson ruled yesterday at Groton, Conn., that the 13-year-old Peter was adopted and not the blood son of Miss Bennett and Plant. Consequently, he ruled, the boy was not entitled to the money.

Plant was the second of Miss Bennett's four husbands. The money was assigned by Plant to his mother, Mrs. Mae Manwaring Hayward of New York City, in his will.

Where Will Japs Strike?

AWAIT JAP ATTACK ON SIBERIA

Assumption of the foreign minister's portfolio in the Japanese cabinet by Premier Hideki Tojo, who already held the portfolios of war minister and home minister, is believed by observers to indicate an imminent Jap attack on Russian Siberia. Retiring Foreign Minister Shigenori Togo has served as ambassador in both Berlin and Moscow. Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, commander of American troops in China and India, said that he believes there is "a good chance" that the Japs will attack Siberia. Central Press map above shows territory into which fighting may spread and important Russian cities, railroads and bases.

Coming of Yank Fliers Turning Point in War

LONDON, Sept. 3.—(AP)—The advent of U. S. Army air forces in the European theater was acclaimed by the RAF today as one of the outstanding events of the third year of the war—a year which the British Army said had brought an Allied invasion of Europe within the range of practical possibility.

But she was scared. This public speaking business was a bit different from lying in ambush 48 hours to take a shot at German.

She sat on the stage of the interdepartmental auditorium with other foreign delegates, a trim figure in her Red army khaki uniform.

Her hair was cropped short and crisply curly. Her trigger finger and the nine others had nails tinted pink.

The program moved along. Her name was called—

Down front sat Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who is a member of the U. S. Committee of the International student service, which is sponsoring the assembly.

The clasp-clasp of her boots brought the 26-year-old Kiev University history student to the rostrum. She put down her speech before her. She stood quite still. Then involuntarily she said:

"W-WH-EW!" The microphone amplified the sigh as the audience of nearly 400 laughed. She

Give 'Em Hell' Willkie Tells Yanks in Egypt

WITH UNITED STATES FORCES NEAR CAIRO, Sept. 3—"I just want to say I'm damned glad to see you, God bless you and give 'em hell," Wendell Willkie told American troops today after looking over their big army workshops and repair facilities here.

Willkie was accompanied by Maj. Gen. Russell Maxwell, U. S. Army commander in the Middle East, at this base where shell-damaged General Grant tanks were being put back into fighting trim.

Speaking informally to the soldiers, Willkie told them the primary purpose of his stop-over in Egypt en route to Chungking and Moscow was to try to focus more attention at home on the Mediterranean front.

Willkie spoke privately to Egyptian Prime Minister Nahas Pasha and visited the Pyramids and Sphinx.

Russia's Back Door in Siberia Believed Most Likely To Be Attacked but India and Even United States Possible; Treachery Scented as They Ease Up in Far East

(By The Associated Press)
A mysterious slump in Japanese aerial strength in the Southwest Pacific, coupled with the continued withdrawal of enemy invasion armies in China, renewed speculation today that Japan was preparing to spring a big-scale attack elsewhere in the Pacific.

Russia's "back-door" in Siberia, India and even the United States have been cited as likely objectives for a new Japanese offensive.

The apparent withdrawal or diminishing of Japanese air power in the southwest Pacific was reflected in a communique from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters reporting that Allied fliers were unchallenged by enemy planes in attacks on two big Japanese bases.

A spokesman for Gen. MacArthur said he had no explanation for the recent lack of Japanese aerial activity, but it was apparent that any major Japanese offensive would call for the marshaling of all available air power.

A United Nations communique said land-based American bombers ranged far out over the Pacific to attack the naval and air base at Buka, at the northern tip of the Solomon Islands. No interception was noted, it added significantly.

Again the enemy failed to intercept when fast United States medium bombers—the B-26 type known as marauders—attacked the Japanese airdrome at Lae, New Guinea.

On the China war front, Japan's invasion armies abandoned another key point in their apparently voluntary retreat from hard-won territory as Chinese dispatches reported the recapture of the important highway and river center of Lupao, 25 miles northwest of Canton.

High Chinese officials have repeatedly insisted that it was merely a question of time before Japan attacked Siberia and that tens of thousands of Japanese troops withdrawn from the China campaign were massing along the Siberian frontier in Manchukuo.

HOPES FOR YOUTH IN UNITED NATIONS ROOSEVELT SAYS

Message to International Congress Broadcast from Washington To World

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—(AP)—President Roosevelt told young people of all the world today that German Nazis, Italian Fascists, and Japanese militarists have nothing to offer but death while "the cause of the United Nations is the cause of youth itself."

His words were broadcast internationally and were directed to young men and women in the United Nations and in Axis nations and Axis-dominated lands as well. But Mr. Roosevelt remarked he fully expected the Axis to jam the airwaves to drown out his message.

The President's immediate audience was the international student assembly gathered in Washington.

Throughout the world, men in America's fighting forces were listening to their commander in chief. Much of the address was directed specifically to them and he gave assurance that "we here at home are supremely conscious of our obligations to you," now and in the future, and "we will not let you down."

GERMAN FACTORIES BLASTED ONCE MORE

LONDON, Sept. 3.—(AP)—A strong force of RAF bombers ushered in the third anniversary of Britain's declaration of war against Germany with flame-throwing raids upon the Upper Rhine-land centered at the railway shops city of Karlsruhe, the British said today.

"The crews reported very large fires and a thick pall of smoke up to 8,000 feet over the town," an authoritative statement said. "Eight of our bombers are missing."

Relays of British planes—evidently both fighters and bombers—thrust explosively at Nazi communications and defense works in northern France.

Main Armies Have Not Yet Clashed on Desert—Axis Supply Lines Bombed

By ROGER D. GREENE

(Wide World News Service)
German steamroller assaults drove the Red armies farther back upon the southern approaches to Stalingrad today, Russian headquarters acknowledged, and the Berlin radio said Nazi siege guns were now within range of the already bomb-torn Volga metropolis.

Soviet dispatches said the German attack from the northwest was checked "at the very approaches" to the city and that massed Nazi tanks driving from the southwest had cut a dangerous new wedge into the Red armies' most stubbornly defended positions.

Russian anti-aircraft gunners were reported to have halted a charge by 50 German tanks on the northwest approaches until reinforcements arrived.

Dispatches to Red Star, the Soviet army newspaper, said Gen. Fedor Von Bock was throwing 200 tanks, masses of infantry and large numbers of planes into the drive from the south.

Hungarian and Rumanian divisions were reported speeding eastward to swell the ranks of Nazi shock troops. More than 1,200 Nazis were killed in the last 24 hours, a Russian communique said.

Allies Strike in Egypt
In the battle of Egypt, Britain's desert armies lashed out at Axis forces massed in the southern sector of the 35-mile El Alamein front, 80 miles west of Alexandria, countering Marshal Erwin Rommel's new four-day offensive.

British G. H. Q. said British mobile columns, striking from the east and southeast, "attacked and harassed the enemy, destroying many vehicles."

The attack, strongly supported by artillery and aircraft including U. S. Army planes, centered in the El Himeimat-El Ruweisat sector on the rim of the great Qattara salt basin where Rommel's preliminary thrusts had penetrated eight miles through British minefields.

Record Air Assault
British headquarters said Rommel's mechanized armies were subjected to a record-breaking bombardment yesterday, with American and RAF planes sweeping over the battle area from dawn until after dark.

Never before, a communique said, had so many bombing sorties been carried out in one day since the start of the African campaign.

With still no sign of a major breakthrough, such as marked Rommel's tempestuous offensives in the past, it began to appear that the Axis chieftain had met stiffer opposition than he had

WAR ON AXIS SUBS SHOWING RESULTS

New Anti-U-boat Methods Increase Hope

LONDON, Sept. 3.—(AP)—July and August of this year were the most successful months of the entire war in the number of Axis submarines destroyed. A. V. Alexander, first lord of the Admiralty, told a war anniversary luncheon today.

"This is encouraging, but we wish to do better still," Alexander said, adding that in addition to those destroyed a large number have been put out of action.

"If the U-boats found their attack upon our forces dangerous last year, I think they will find it doubly dangerous now," he asserted. "New methods have been developed and new devices are in action."

War Today

Development of 'Killer' Psychology in Soldiers Seen as Dangerous

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (Wide World News Service)

Nearly every discussion of what will be necessary for a permanent peace involves the Allied determination to destroy completely militarism in Japan and Germany.

This program would mean stripping these countries of every vestige of armament and the means of making arms. Nippon and the Reich likely would have to be policed for many years. All the militaristic leaders would have to be liquidated by death or imprisonment.

In connection with "liquidation", British Home Secretary Morrison yesterday declared in a speech that "the United Nations would accept no peace offer from Hitler unless it took the form of a promise, with guarantees of performance, of a collective suicide pact by the whole German leadership." I suspect the secretary was in part "spoofing", as our English friends say, although there's no reason to doubt that he meant Hitler and his captains must be removed from the picture.

Anyway, with all these things done the Allies must then undertake the elimination of militaristic tendencies among the defeated people by a long and difficult process of education. And our success in this epochal experiment will depend largely on the attitude in which we approach it.

Are we to undertake it in hatred and bent on revenge? Or are we to deal with it from the viewpoint of the Golden Rule? It's important that we make up our minds in advance.

I raise this issue because the cultivation of hatred is being advocated in some circles. The idea is not only to defeat and punish the enemy, but smash hell out of 'em for all time. Those who belong to this school of thought advocate the deliberate creation of hatred in the hearts of our soldiers. That, of course, would pave the way for post-war savagery in our effort to change the world.

There's no doubt of the danger of trying to savage troops. The soldier who is obsessed with hate is the one likely to be killed, and the commander likewise afflicted would be unsuited for leadership.

I've seen a mighty lot of killing in war, and my experience is that with rare exceptions a soldier has a rather impersonal feeling in carrying out his job.

LOREN HYNES SPEAKS AT LIONS MEETING

Softball Game with Rotary Club Discussed

Members of the Lions Club today had a pretty fair idea of what one of their fellow Lions would do if he represented Fayette County in the state's General Assembly.

At their last supper meeting at the Country Club, Loren Hynes gave the Lions his conception of the duties of state representatives. He is the Democratic candidate for the office and will be opposed in the November election by Stanley Paxson, the Republican candidate.

Most of the meeting was given over to Hynes' discourse on "The Duties of a Representative," in line with a club custom to have programs featuring the members periodically.

Considerable discussion of the business session centered on a second softball game between the Rotary and Lions clubs. Present plans are to play the game next Tuesday evening at Wilson Field.

RAINFALL LAST MONTH WAS 1.62 INCHES SHORT

Temperature Was One Degree Below Average for August

August rainfall was 1.62 inches below the average for the month during the last 10 years, according to the monthly summary just announced by U. S. Observer Stanley D. Mark.

Mark's summary shows 1.57 inches recorded during August compared with a normal of 3.29, while in 1941 it was 3.75 for the month and 3.41 in 1941.

Central Fayette County, it seems, failed to receive several showers that fell over northern and southern parts of the county, so that the city was in the dry area in August.

The mean temperature for August was 71 degrees, or one degree below the average. A year ago the reading was 71 and in 1940 it was 72.9 degrees.

The average maximum was 83 degrees and average minimum was 59 degrees.

Peak temperature was 91 degrees on the 2nd and the minimum was 44 degrees on the 24.

Thunderstorms were recorded on the 2nd, 7th, 9th, 21st, 22nd and 28th.

MEANS BUSINESS

There is a fairly general idea that a great deal of chiseling is going on against price and rationing regulations. Probably there is some. But Leon Henderson's office wants it understood that there are penalties attached, and judges have made it clear that those penalties will be applied.

An Indianan who broke a rationing regulation was sent to jail for 18 months and fined $500. A California tire bootlegger was fined $3,000 and given a year's suspended jail sentence. A Minnesotan who lied about the sugar he had on hand was sent to jail for six months and fined $2,100. Three Texas price-ceiling violators were fined $3,000 and sent to jail for 20 months each.

It does not pay to try Uncle Sam's patience too far.

HITLER'S PROBLEM

Hitler understands perfectly that he must win this year or not at all. Yet victory, manifestly, is beyond him in 1942. No matter how far back he pushes the Russian armies on this side of the Caspian and the Urals, he will not have eliminated them. Capture of areas bearing oil will be of no use if he finds all wells blown up, all pipelines destroyed, all refineries wrecked, and all resources stored drained off or burned.

Many months will be required to get oil where the burned earth policy of the Russians has intervened. In two more months winter will be sending out her warnings. The Russian armies will be in being and growing stronger. Supplies from America and Britain will be flowing to them in ever broader streams. German lines of communication will be more attenuated than ever. The war will be stalemated on the eastern front.

Major Eliot in commenting on the situation says that, "It is true that Germany must win a decisive success in 1942 or all is lost—for her. It is not true that we must defeat Germany in 1942 or all is lost—for us."

Germany made great preparations for war over a period of six or seven years. Her stored resources are rapidly dwindling. She cannot get her hands at once on the critical materials needed. She is unable to stand a prolonged struggle. She is short of metals, of oil, of food, and even of man power. Fuel cannot be obtained in sufficient amount for the winter. Clothing is made of ersatz products and wears out quickly while failing to keep the wearer warm. The occupied countries have been stripped. Labor is becoming more sullen and inefficient. Unrest is growing within Germany. Starvation ra-

Flashes of Life

GREENVILLE, N. C.—A Greenville businessman several months ago named his first-born son for his partner. Recently they disagreed and dissolved the partnership, so the father went to City Hall and had the name of his son changed. That's not the end of the story. The other man thereupon named a new-born mule for his former partner.

NORFOLK, Va.—Mrs. Jennie Bacchus has been elected teacher of the Burrows Memorial Baptist Church Bible Class for her 53rd consecutive term. She is 93.

AYER, Mass.—Private Wadie B. Patrick's suitcase went on a furlough—without Private Patrick.

He arrived at the station just in time to see his train starting out. He tossed the suitcase onto the rear platform, then found he couldn't keep up with the train.

Some one says, "Boys will be boys"; he forgot to add, "Boys will be men."

Hints on Etiquette

You shouldn't need this hint and probably don't, but when your soldier or sailor sweetheart comes home on a furlough, all spick and span in his uniform, match his trim appearance with your own. Be neat and clean, with tidy hair, trim dress or suit, chin up, shoulders back, absolutely no sloppiness, when you are walking down the street with him.

Today's Horoscope

Those of you who have birthdays today are patient, systematic, mentally alert and capable of executing your fine ideas with infinite care and attention to detail. You have mechanical ability, and your affections run deep. Sudden unexpected events worry you in the next year. You should not be precipitate in word or deed, and should guard against disputes and accidents. Some happiness through womenfolk will be experienced, however. Born on this date a child will lack the powers of continuity and concentration, being erratic and excitable. Such a personality will, however, be industrious, enthusiastic and kind-hearted. Patience and poise should be taught this child early in life.

tions will be served to the peoples under the German yoke. Famine and pestilence are on the way.

Yet the Russian front still occupies millions of Germans, and there the war is burning up lives and materials at a tremendous rate. Hitler cannot destroy the defensive and offensive power of Russia in 60 days. His progress is slow and bloody. So far, unless far more is accomplished before winter, he has exhausted his troops and his resources without adequate compensation. The Caucasus mountains and the Volga lie before him. But even if these obstacles are overcome, hundreds of miles are ahead of him before he reaches the really vital industrial areas of the Soviet Union, and beyond the Urals lies Siberia stretching to the Pacific Ocean and alive with soldiers and rich in resources.

Washington at a Glance

By Charles P. Stewart

WASHINGTON — Congressman Hamilton Fish's case is a political curiosity. The ordinary congressional candidate isn't a consideration in campaign time outside his own particular district, but Ham Fish is. Thomas Dewey, running for governor of New York, which includes 43 districts, has proclaimed that Ham must be beaten as a representative aspirant for reelection by the 26th of them. This is not understanding the fact that Dewey and Fish are alike Republican nominees.

It's pretty obvious then, that Tom regards Ham, on the same ticket with him, as handicapped to himself throughout the Empire state generally.

Now, Ham's 26th district is now in the extreme southwestern corner of New York. Yet Tom rates him as a peril to his own gubernatorial chances as far away as the 40th district, among others, in the extreme northwest. It's Tom's correct, may be G. O. P. chance in every congressional district in the country?

Nevertheless, I understand there is no betting against him in New York's 26th. Ham is a congressional veteran of 22 years' service. The beauty of it is that he and President Roosevelt live in the same district. It frequently has been remarked on that a Republican should keep on succeeding himself, term after term, from F. D. R.'s own neighborhood. Ham has done it, though, and by a liberal majority every time. He hasn't done it by sliding in unostentatiously, either. He's an aggressive chap, who makes a racket on the stump and in Washington.

Well, in due course he started a congressional investigation of un-American activities in the United States. Fascism was in its infancy then and Nazism hadn't been born, so Ham concentrated on the Communists. He certainly raised hives with 'em. It was okay at that stage of the game, because Communism was anathema in our midsts as Hitlerism is now. But today it's no favorable advertisement to have baited 'em as vigorously as Ham did, not so very long ago.

Next, Ham developed into a pre-Pearl Harbor "isolationist." He was a soldier in the last World war and was decorated as a corking good one and he's as anti-Axis as could be desired today, but he was an outspoken non-interventionist as to the current conflict until we actually were attacked. Consequently he's classified with the "isolationistic" group.

Didn't Like Him

The New Dealers didn't like him, anyway. He was a "Teddy" Roosevelt progressive but that was as a Republican. He never took to the F. D. Roosevelt Democratic New Deal.

With all these counts accumulating against him the opposition began to believe it could beat him in the 26th. Instead, he won again in a walk. Lately he got in that muss over the use of his congressional "frank" for alleged broadcasting of Axis propaganda throughout the U. S. A. It wasn't pinned on him, but on his secretary, but it was used against him for all it was worth.

"That" reckoned New Deal Democratic folk, "will queer him in his home district. He never'll succeed in getting a re-nomination."

But he got it by a liberal margin. Another accusation Following re-nomination he's accused of dodging $25,000 in income taxation—money allegedly forked out to him by former President Rafael L. Trujillo of the Dominican Republic, in Central America.

This is supposed to finish him. Ham has explained it on the ground that it was a mere business dicker, on which he lost money—no—dough to account to the revenue on. His hope is that they're trying to "smear" him.

The burden of the proof certainly seems to me to be upon the prosecution that Ham Fish has done anything crooked. I wouldn't guarantee that he hasn't been a "fish," however. Yet, if he gets away with the 26th district of his, all the same, he'll have scored a victory in his neighborhood.

It conflicts, though, with democratic principles. I'm speaking of him as a personality—a curiosity. He's interesting as a "bug" as a war-time freak.

Diet and Health

Just What is an Optimum Diet?

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
LAST WINTER Dr. A. J. Carlson, Professor of Physiology at the University of Chicago, startled an audience of medical students and scientists by saying, in the midst of all the discussion about improving the national nutrition: "Nobody on earth knows what an optimum diet is."

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Startling, because everybody has been talking as if it were generally agreed exactly what the optimum human diet is. What is the definition of an optimum diet? Well, it is a little more than an adequate diet. The medical dictionary defines optimum thus: "The temperature or other conditions at which vital processes are carried on with the greatest activity."

So an optimum diet is the diet with which vital processes are carried on with the greatest activity. An adequate diet maintains health. Thus you can keep healthy rats up to 30 generations in more than average activity and fertility on a diet which consists of one-sixth whole dried milk and five-sixths of ground whole wheat.

Increase the proportion of dried milk to one-third and there is a marked improvement in nutrition and positive health. Growth is more rapid and efficient, death rates are lower, the period of the prime of life is increased and fertility is greater. But as you keep adding food elements a place is reached where obesity and sluggishness appears, initiative and activity decrease. Somewhere in between is the theoretical "optimum diet."

No Exact Definition

We know in a general way what it is, but the scientific mind likes exact definition in mathematical terms and that we cannot give for the optimum diet.

A group of San Francisco dentists whom we quoted recently,

Drs. Collins, Jensen and Beck, in the course of their experimental work sent out a questionnaire to a number of nutritionists, physiologists and clinicians trying to find out what the definitions and specifications of an optimum diet are.

A large number refused to attempt a definition, saying that on account of the incompleteness of the present knowledge of nutritional requirements a specific answer could not be written.

One research worker said, "If human beings were as uniform in familial and inheritance characters as a colony of rats, an optimum diet could be reliably appraised. But they are not. The optimum diet of the Eskimo is quite unlike that of the Negro in the bayous of Louisiana. One may find a myriad of varying tastes and digestive capacities which affect the utilization of diet."

In general, as I say, we know that a human being must have at least 50 grams of protein daily, from 2000 to 3000 calories depending on his activity, and vitamins and minerals. So much milk, eggs, meat, grains, cereals, fruits and vegetables are the basic products which contain these chemical elements. But how much of the calorie intake should be supplied by carbohydrate, or fat or protein, we do not know. Can you safely reduce the carbohydrate intake for the sake of the teeth? The exact answer is unknown.

by MARIE BLIZARD

WRITTEN FOR AND RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

CHAPTER TWENTY-FOUR
AN AUTO horn shrieked raucously and Ellen said, "That would be Dad."

"Run along, child. You must be starved." Barbara got a raincoat from the closet.

Ellen slipped into the coat and picked up her school books. "I'll come back tonight."

Barbara cast a morose glance at the gleaming wet street and shook her head. "I don't believe I'll stay open tonight. The rain is never going to stop. If no one comes in this afternoon—and it doesn't look as if anyone would—it isn't likely anyone will come by tonight. People with any sense will stay at home."

"Somebody's sure to come in, Mrs. Wister, if only for a cup of tea and toast with you. You certainly started something when you began serving it."

Barbara said happily, "It was a good idea, wasn't it? I've made lots of friends that way, and customers, too."

"I was thinking, though, that you could cut down on expenses if you cut it out of Mrs. Alwyn's left three more jars of her ginger marmalade today. That's a dollar and forty cents you could have saved."

Barbara shook her head. "That's all the money the poor old thing earns."

"Well, then," Ellen said boldly, "you could stop sending it to everybody for presents, like you do."

"Could I?" Barbara asked thoughtfully. "It's a treat, you know, and I like to do little things for people because they do things for me."

"Why shouldn't they?" Ellen grumbled, putting on her gloves slowly. "You do all sorts of nice things for people all the time."

"Just trying to make friends, my dear. And I have, haven't I?" she asked.

"I'd say you have. You never would have been asked to join the Mother's club and the Ladies' Aid and the Guild if the ladies didn't like you. . . . I forgot to tell you that Mrs. Crawford called up and says if you're keeping open tonight, would you like to come to her house for supper."

Barbara's morose expression lifted instantly. "The darling!" she said. "I never thought she'd get to like me. She looks so . . . so rock-bound New England."

"Folks often look that way when they don't know that you like them. When you first came here—"

Her father interrupted her speech with another long shriek of the horn.

Barbara buttoned the girl's coat up under her chin and kissed her. "Run along, child, and get your lunch. I know all about what they were thinking when I first came here. Now it's different and I love it."

She went to the door with her and stood watching the car out of sight, scanning the length of Main street with a troubled gaze. It was no passing April shower that poured out of the heavens. It was a steady downpour that had driven people indoors and washed out her hopes of a good business day.

She sniffed the clean wet air and the smell of the earth breaking its winter bonds ran into her with a sweet promise. She felt her senses quickening in response. It was a kind of anticipation that ran through her, a purely instinctive anticipation because there was no promise for her in the coming season. She did not want it to come. The passing of each day left her with an inward swooping of her spirit. She was afraid to face the future. Her little business was a good one, but try as she would to head her powers of ingenuity and merchandizing, she could not catch up with the sum of money she needed to meet the bills stacked on her desk. The bills from the publishing firms that supplied her new books, the bills from the greeting card and gift people were the least of her worries; it was the money due on the mortgage, her insurance, her taxes that confronted her with awful proportions.

These she forgot for a moment. It was April and its earth-given perfume stirred her, turning the pages of her memory.

It was April when she and Mark were married. It seemed very remote now, that night five years ago. She could remember how they'd smelled the fresh earth in the car driving to Greenwich and the smell had brought a lump to her throat and she had been more than a little frightened and felt trapped in that dusty parlor of the justice of peace. But she hadn't dared to say so to herself, telling that voice in her that she was doing what was right.

She fixed her eyes on the lighted window of the drugstore across the street, but the usual red and green symbols of the pharmacist faded before the glance turned in upon herself and she could remember every detail of the room in Greenwich; the carpet had great faded roses on it and the curtains were musty and of a nondescript green. She could remember looking down and seeing a run in her stocking, and remember feeling the cold touch of the gold band Mark slipped on her finger. But she could remember Mark's embarrassed kiss less clearly than she could remember the feel of Tom Kilcran's strong arm about her waist in a waltz that was less than an echo six weeks past. THAT was something she wanted to forget.

She had put him out of her mind resolutely when she sent back his lighter.

Resolutions. She laughed dryly, thinking that it was beginning to be a habit with her to make them. Not to think of Tom Kilcran again. Not to think of Tony in a romantic light. It was just as well that she had made that one when Ruth Calder made her ridiculous assumption that Tony was interested in her. Ruth knew it was ridiculous now. Because last night she had been with Barbara at the movies and together they had seen the two heads close together ahead of them. Tony and Pamela Kilcran.

Well, that was good, she thought. She was glad that the Kilcrans had taken Tony on and that Pamela was interested in him. It would be good for both. If Pamela had any influence with her father, she would be able to help Tony.

Her thoughts settled on him. She was worried about Tony. He was thinner, more tired than he should have been. It was those chemical poisoning cases at the mill, he talked to her about them, about his need for a laboratory, and then when he spoke to Kilcran, he was angry and frustrated. That she had not understood, remembering the kindness and sympathy that were like a light from within Tom Kilcran.

Deliberately she turned her thoughts from Tony's troubles to her own, going back into the shop, but avoiding a glance at the bills on her desk.

She brushed ashes into the hearth, rearranged a shelf of books, taking one down to read, and settled herself in a chair to await whatever the afternoon might bring. It would be little, she thought.

Absorbed in her book, she forgot the dismal day, the shop itself, and was startled when the bell announced a stranger. His presence was startling. He looked like a huge bear in the wet shining raincoat that enveloped his enormous bulk. He must, Barbara thought, moving forward to greet him, weigh at least 300 pounds. She knew she had never seen him in the town.

New Tires for Trucks and Cars Getting Scarce

RATION BOARD CHAIRMAN GIVES TIP ON FUTURE

Retreading Available If Tires Are Taken Care Of But No Help If They Are Not

New tires are getting scarcer than the proverbial hen's teeth and the prospects of getting any for either truck or passenger car are so slim that they might as well be considered non-existent.

This is the way W. L. O'Brien, the county Rationing Board chairman, summed up the situation after reading the latest memorandum from the state office of the OPA. He added, however, that this did not mean the approaching end of automotive transportation here because, he went on to explain, retreads are still available to users in the eligible classifications. But, he said, it did emphasize the need for taking care of present tires and extending their lives through retreading.

Users who abuse their tires or neglect them in the hope that they can get new ones, "are just going to be out of luck," the chairman of the Fayette County Rationing Board said.

Although he declined to give specific figures on the county's new tire quota for September, he did say that it was only about one-twelfth of the monthly quota given when rationing first went into effect. He predicted that there would be even fewer next month—if there are any at all.

He quoted from the memorandum to lend weight to his warning that both car and truck users should apply for retreads before their tires are too badly worn. He read in part:

"Important — A 'carcass' in terms of the rubber industry is not a dead horse ready for the glue factory or tiger bait for the circus.

"As a matter of stark reality, a good sound tire carcass, or tire body suitable for retreading or recapping, properly equipped with application of 'camelback' may be the only means of automobile and truck transportation.

1. Eligibility of List A vehicles, etc. (a) All List A applicants, including both truck and passenger automobiles, must accept retreaded or recapped tires or retreading and recapping services—when carcass permits. (b) Police cars or fire fighting equipment may require new tires for safety reasons. 2. Boards must refuse certificates to applicants abusing or neglecting tires—(See amendment Number 7 of the Revised Tire Rationing Regulations—502-C-2). 'On and after June 1, 1942, a board may not issue a certificate for a tire to an applicant who seeks to replace a tire carcass which cannot be recapped unless the applicant can establish to the satisfaction of the Board that the carcass which he seeks to replace became unusable from circumstances not resulting from the applicant's abuse or neglect.' 3. Trucks . . . must learn to use carcasses or retreads or garage their equipment. 4. It is imperative that application O. P. A. Form R-1 and R-1A be filled out completely by applicant in order that the board will have all information. We are especially calling attention to O. P. A. Form R-1, question 14, parts A, B, C and D. 'This will give you the basis for considering new tire applications.

save souls, it is now the job of every passenger car owner and truck owner to save tires and have them retreaded or recapped before they become unusable, or lost 'soles'.

"Our slogan should be 'Retread or retire.' The key to the automobile and truck transportation problem is now on the running wheels—the ability of these tires to take the first, the second, and even the third retread or recap.

"Please meet the challenge; give this publicity and put it into effect."

Country Club Golf Gossip

If the first three matches played for the Country Club golf championship are any criterion, some keen competition and blistering rounds are in prospect for the next few weeks before the king is crowned.

John Browning edged out Mel Shaw on the next to the last hole; Charles Dunton forced Sam Parrett to go 19 holes to win their match and Marvin Thornburg, one of the club's long drivers, nosed out L. G. Dupree.

Ronald Cornwell, who last week bagged the club handicap title with some consistent sub-par shooting, meets H. O. Nolan as his first hurdle in his quest for the club's other top golfing honors.

The other matches for the first round of the elimination play are:

Glen Roseboom vs. P. J. Burke.
O. W. House vs. F. E. Hill.
Glen Woodmansee vs. Ed Hunt.
Forest Ellis vs. Bill Junk.
Stanley Hagerty vs. Dr. I. L. Pumphrey.

-Spying- On Sports

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

(Wide World News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Fun with a gun: J. F. McConkey, who works in a Wichita, Kas., airplane factory, comes up with a new version of trapshooting that has made a big hit out that way. He calls it "Jap-shooting." Instead of the conventional clay pigeon being tossed from a trap, a guy with a bow shoots a target consisting of a dummy with unmistakable Japanese features rolled up in a parachute. As the Jap glides toward the ground, the marksman with a shotgun gets his crack at it. The Notre Dame football ticket office reports receiving an order from the Solomon Islands—merely a marine who wanted to make sure his parents and his girl would see some games.

Stars and Gripes

Here's one reason baseball scouts go nuts: The Cincinnati Reds recently received a letter from a Kentucky village telling of the feats of a local 16-year-old who was hitting .332 and had belted 30 homers in 14 games. A scout was dispatched immediately. A day or so later he came back with a very red face to report that the hero's team averaged eight years in age and the opposition nine.

Today's Guest Star

Dan Parker, New York Daily Mirror: "The MacPhail hesitated until the last possible moment before letting himself in for such competition as Bobo Newsome will give him conversationally. However, the situation called for desperate measures, so there's now an eternal talking triangle in Brooklyn made up of the lip, the mouth and the tongue."

Top Flight Horses To Run At Beulah Park Fall Meet

COLUMBUS, Sept. 3.—Frequent and recent winners will be plentiful at Beulah Park's fall meeting, which opens Saturday, September 5, for 19 days. Post time is to be 2:15 P. M. daily with the exceptions of Thursdays, when the sport is to get under way at 3:30.

One of the outstanding two-year-olds in the middle-west is H. R. Penney's I Lov Bridge, which will be raced at Beulah by Jack Long. I Lov Bridge has won both of the starts she has made to date at River Downs and on one occasion sped over the five and one-half furlong distance in 1:05, only a fraction of a second off the track record.

Other recent winners in Long's stable include Darby Demon, Darby Deedee, Darby Ducat and Darby Diavolo.

R. L. Jackson's Stingy Lady won her three starts at Ascot Park. Art Dishong's Erins Sweep has taken his last two outings at River Downs where B. L. Dishong's Fountain Grove and Russell Fisher's Blon Gla also have been steady winners.

B. S. Littrell's large stable will include Blue Button, winner of three at River Downs. Littrell was the No. 1 trainer at Beulah meeting last spring and he is hopeful of retaining his laurels.

In the stable that K. S. Cleveland is shipping to Grove City from Dade Park is Soup and Fish, which has won three in a row at the Kentucky course and also established a six-furlong track record of 1:10.2-5.

Racing again will be under the supervision of Thomas C. Bradley as presiding steward and director of racing. Fred Burton is Hoy Simons vs. Ormond Dewey.

Ed Cunningham vs. Dr. W. H. Limes.

Walter Ellis vs. Dr. C. G. Hayes.
Sam Parrett vs. M. Thornburg.

Inter-City Match

With the London match completed for this year and the cup emblematic of the championship settled in Washington C. H., the golfers of the Country Club here are now smoothing up their play to get ready for two return matches in the season's inter-city schedule. They will go to Xenia on September 13 and to Chillicothe on the following Sunday, September 20.

The Washington C. H. mashie wielders hold victories over both of these clubs in the first matches, previously played here.

From the Pro's Notebook

From the notebook of the club pro, Tony Capuano, the scribbles show:

Hoy Simons, Ray Brandenburg and Mel Shaw have been missing out on their golf here while on a fishing trip in parts unknown.

Bill McLean, one of the club's real tough golfers and a long driver, is recovering from a month's illness.

Ed Cunningham, one of the club's golfing enthusiasts and his family are vacationing on the Great Lakes.

Golfers with "best scores" last week were Charles Dunton, 36; O. W. House, 37; C. R. VanZant 41 and Glen Roseboom, 36.

Most regular foursomes are Dr. C. G. Hayes, Dr. W. H. Limes, Sam Parrett and Ormond Dewey and O. W. House, Walter Ellis, John Browning and Stanley Hagerty.

On a page of its own, this note was scribbled by the pro because of its rarity: "I have seen ambidextrous ball players but never a golfer who could swing from either side. George Conner comes out one day and plays right-handed and comes back the next and plays left-handed." He failed to note the comparative scores.

AA Race Tightens Up; Red Birds Back at Top In Tie with K. C. Blues

(By The Associated Press)

Even the American Association's second division clubs, almost forgotten in the spectacular pennant fight being waged in the upper bracket, are being heard from as the race enters its final five days of action.

Last night all celebrated with victories over the leaders, although Indianapolis, after defeating Columbus in the first game of a double header, 9-1, lost the second 5-4.

For Columbus, the even split enabled it to jump from third to a first place tie with Kansas City, since the Blues and second place Milwaukee both lost. Another first division change resulted when Louisville, beaten twice by Toledo Tuesday, turned the tables in a double header last night and regained fourth place from the Mudhens.

The standings today read:

	W	L	Pct
Kansas City	81	67	.547
Columbus	81	67	.547
Milwaukee	79	66	.545
Louisville	76	72	.514

Kansas City, winner of six straight games, lost to Minneapolis, 5 to 2, last night. St. Paul downed Milwaukee 5 to 4, and Louisville scored a double win over Toledo, 8-1 and 4-2.

TOUGH BLUE LION TEAM INDICATED BY SECOND DAY OF GRID PRACTICE

The Blue Lion footballers are progressing rapidly in their conditioning work and, although there aren't very many of them, they will make up one of the toughest teams Washington C. H. High School ever had.

Such were the indications after the second day of practice.

At the regular practice Wednesday night, Coach Jerry Kissel put 16 boys through their paces and hoped more would come out later. Some of the boys are probably on their vacations and others working and will come out when they return, he said.

At the practices now, the boys are doing calisthenics and getting in shape for the first game in about two weeks. This game is against Portsmouth East here at Gardner Park on Friday night, September 18.

Season tickets are on sale by all members of the football squad for $1.75. This ticket will admit the holder to the five home games here this year.

Presbyterians Back in Race With Victory Over Catholics

Although the Presbyterians won from the Catholics, 9 to 6, Wednesday night, the Methodists still held the lead in the Church League.

The Presbyterians still have a chance to take over first place in the Church League if they win when they play the Methodists next Monday night. A win for the Presbyterians would tie both teams for first place as it was in the first round of the schedule.

The Methodists won the play-off game at that time.

The hitters of the second game were Croker of St. Colman's with two for two, Boylan of the same team with one for one and Orr of the Presbyterians with one for one.

The second game of the evening between the Forest Shade Grange and the Selden Grange was won by the Selden Grange team by a score of 10 to 5. No box score was available for this game.

One game will be played Thursday night at Wilson Field between Light's Dairy and Albers. This game will begin at 8 P. M.

FIVE PITCHERS USED BY BROOKS TO BEAT REDS

But Dodger Lead Stretched
As Giants Hang 8-2
Defeat on Cardinals

(By The Associated Press)

The Brooklyn Dodgers now have a 4½ game lead in their National League pennant race, so who's nervous?

Well, Mr. Leo Ernest Durocher, the Dodgers' peerless pilot, appears to be—for one.

Yesterday Durocher called on no fewer than five of his best pitchers to curb the futile Cincinnati Reds, 3-2 in 12 innings. From left to right and start to finish his field included Curt Davis, Hugh Casey, Kirby Higbe, Les Webber and Whitlow Wyatt.

Davis started the game, although he had been used for relief two days in a row in the preceding series at Pittsburgh.

Davis was knocked out in the fifth yesterday and Casey took competent charge until removed for a pinch-hitter in the ninth. Then Higbe was sent to the mound. He walked the first batter and immediately was flagged out in favor of Webber. The rookie gave one hit in the tenth and then Durocher, taking no chances, called in Wyatt for his first relief chore of the year.

The Dodger ace finished strongly and gained his 17th victory when a walk, a sacrifice and a single by Arky Vaughan scored a run for Brooklyn in the twelfth.

The defeat was charged to plucky Bucky Walters, who himself made three hits, batted in one Red run and scored the other.

The triumph added another game to Brooklyn's slender margin because the New York Giants slugged out an 8-2 win over the St. Louis Cardinals. Babe Young doubled with the bases loaded for three runs in the third and the Giants tallied two more in the fourth to rout Max Lanier.

The Boston Braves beat the Chicago Cubs, 2-1 in ten innings,

Henrich in Coast Guard Because 'It's Time To Do My Part' in Spite of Regrets

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 3.—(P)—Tommy Henrich, 27-year-old New York Yankee outfielder, slipped the legs that helped him cover the grassy reaches of Yankee Stadium into a pair of bellbottomed trousers today and began service as a specialist, first class, in the U. S. Coast Guard.

Feeling something like a sandlotter braced for his first try in the major leagues, the tanned member of the world's champions said he hopes to buckle down immediately to his duties in the coast guard's physical fitness program.

"I'm just a rookie—a greenhorn," opined Henrich, "but I had to learn baseball just like I'm going to have to learn this business."

"I sure can't say I haven't any regrets about leaving baseball," the Massillon, O., big leaguer commented, "but I know it's time to do my part."

Henrich reported for duty yesterday at Cleveland district headquarters, having enlisted recently after his draft board classified him 1-A. He said he hoped to step back into a pair of spiked shoes when "this job is done."

after Lon Warneke had held them scoreless for seven frames.

The Pirates stopped the Phils, 5-2, by scoring four runs without a hit in the eighth inning of their night game.

At New York the Yankees swept a doubleheader from the St. Louis Browns, 3-2, on Charley Keller's 25th homer in the tenth inning and 6-0 on Hank Borowy's masterful one-hit hurling. The huge mid-week crowd of 27,000 thought it was seeing a no-hitter, not knowing that Harold Clift's bouncer off Joe Gordon's glove in the first inning had been scored as a single instead of an error.

When the totals were posted on the scoreboard the fans, already milling jubilantly on the field, boomed.

The Cleveland Indians rose

State's Track Coaches
To Look into Future

COLUMBUS, Sept. 3.—(P)—The state association of track coaches meets here Sunday to plan a program for the 1942-43 school year and to determine whether to eliminate or curtail any meets during the war. Indications are that some high school relays may be abandoned or trimmed.

Markets And Finance

GRAIN MARKET NEWS SUMMARY

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—(P)—Wheat price losses ranging from fractions to as much as a cent led a general slow decline in the grain market today.

May, 1943, wheat contracts were weakest. Grain men blamed this partly on shifting of hedges from September delivery into deferred contracts and on the fact that even at a low of around $1.27 May futures were only 5 cents below the government loan rate for No. 2 grades.

Higher estimates of spring wheat, corn, oats and rye production issued by C. M. Galvin, crop expert, attracted attention and the market suffered from a let-up in mill and flour trade activity as well as hesitancy pending the president's Labor Day anti-inflation talk.

GEORGE A. GREGG DIES FOLLOWING LONG ILLNESS

County Engineer Had Been
Victim of Heart Trouble
For Many Months

George A. Gregg, 70, Fayette County Engineer for a number of years, and formerly engaged in business in Washington C. H., died Wednesday at 2:30 P. M. at his home, 308 North Main Street, following a lengthy illness of heart affliction and complications.

Mr. Gregg was stricken last year and his health had been poor since that time. Three weeks ago his condition became serious, and since that time he had been gradually growing weaker.

Mr. Gregg is survived by one son, Howard, of this city; two brothers and two sisters—William of Waverly; Edgar of Napoleon; Misses Belle and Minnie Gregg, of Waverly.

Coming here about 47 years ago, from Waverly, where he spent his early years, Mr. Gregg became affiliated with the Weston Baker Wholesale Grocery Co., and later with the Frank L. Stutson department store.

After being at the Stutson store for sometime he and Charles Smithers formed a partnership and opened a shoe store. Later Mr. Gregg purchased the interests of his partner and conducted the store himself.

He was assistant in the County Engineer's office for a number of years, and later became engineer, discharging the duties in his usual conscientious manner.

He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church. For many years he was prominent in the Knights of Pythias Lodge and Uniform Rank of the order here.

He was a man of sterling qualities and leaves an unusually large number of friends.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 P. M. at the Kiever Funeral Home, conducted by Rev. J. Roby Oldham, and burial will be made in the family lot in the Washington C. H. Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home at any time.

MONTHLY FUNDS ARE RECEIVED

Federal and State Money
For Two Funds Now in Auditor's Hands

County Auditor Roy Baughn is in receipt of checks from the federal government and state treasurer for the September blind relief and aid to dependent children funds.

For the blind relief the federal check is $541 and state $163.34. The federal government contributes half of the fund, the county about one-third and the state the remainder.

The federal check for aid to dependent children was $895.18 and the state $600.60. Half of the expense of this aid is paid by the federal government, and the other half divided equally between the state and county.

FILIPINO SPEAKS IN CITY SUNDAY

Juan L. Baronia Is To Be
South Side Church Speaker

Juan L. Baronia, of Manila, Philippine Islands, will be guest speaker at both services at the South Side Church of Christ, Sunday. He is president of the Manila Bible Seminary and has been an able evangelist for many years.

Sunday will be the first service of the South Side congregation in its church building since the redecoration has been completed. Special music will feature both morning and evening services and with Baronia as speaker, all who attend will be richly repaid.

Due to war conditions, Baronia, who came to the United States more than a year ago has been unable to hear from his family and of course cannot return to his native land.

MORE DRAFTEES LEAVE THURSDAY

Large Number Will Depart
For Examination
Friday

Another bus load of registrants from Fayette County took their departure Thursday morning for Columbus, physical examination and induction into the military service.

The men who pass the tests
and are inducted into service, will return home for two weeks before taking their departure for active training. They will go to Fort Hayes.

An unusually large number of registrants will be sent from the county Friday, it is understood, and several buses may be required to move the contingent.

These men will also be given trial tests and those accepted for service will have two weeks at home before departing for training.

PLAN RESURFACING CIRCLEVILLE ROAD

Seven Miles of Roadway To Be Included

Plans are being made for resurfacing U. S. 22, the Circleville road, between this city and New Holland, sometime before cold weather.

The road to be surface treated includes about seven miles, from this city to the Bogus road, and from Johnson's Crossing to the New Holland corporation line.

Much of the road is in urgent need of such treatment, and the work will probably be done by the State Highway crew in Fayette County.

SWING THOSE SCISSORS ON THOSE ZOOT SUITS; THIS IS WAR GATES

men's and women's clothing simplification orders.

The men's zoot suit is a hepcats garb and the coat is something sharp. It swirls from knee to ankle-length and flaps when the tune gets peppy. The trousers are anklesug and loose at the knees—like a track team's sweat pants—and rise so high that a gun in the belt could be worn like a shoulder holster.

The juke coat is a solid set of thread. It's a women's jacket, cut long to look like the men's.
Walton says that the "spreading craze" is a waste of fabric, and unpatriotic when "we have a war on our hands that requires saving all the cloth" for "our soldiers and sailors and for necessary civilian clothing."

"We are going to recommend that action be taken against all manufacturers found violating these orders, as well as distributors handling these suits and coats," he said.

So that's the tune, and in this pleat-less, tuck-less, cuff-less day, it may have a hearty chorus.

Swing those scissors, Gates.

SALES FOR WEEK AHEAD OF 1941

One of Few Weeks Where An Increase Was Shown
In Receipts

During the week ending August 22 sales of prepaid tax receipts in Fayette County exceeded those for the same period last year—the week being one of the few so far this year where last year's sales were exceeded.

For the week sales reached $2,132.77 compared with $2,007.74 for the same period last year.

All surrounding counties showed pronounced losses during the same week, except Highland, which recorded a small gain.

In the state generally a further slump of $225,008.12 was noted in sales for the week ending August 22.

Receipts in the state during the single week collection reached $1,109,717.30 as compared with $884,709.17, the report shows.
